PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Consulting director with 18+ years building and scaling Data and AI advisory practices across Europe. Currently leading Thoughtworks' Central Europe Data & AI Service Line — 54 consultants across Romania, Amsterdam, and Germany — accountable for commercial development, CXO advisory, engagement quality, and go-to-market strategy. Track record of originating and closing high-value consulting engagements in financial services, energy, and enterprise markets. Equally strong on the client side and the practice side: I win engagements, deliver them, and build the capability that sustains them. I speak at major industry events, co-authored a published book series on Data Products, and teach executive cohorts at O'Reilly. I am based in Germany and have led multi-country teams across Europe throughout my career.

EXPERIENCE

Thoughtworks · Deputy Director, Data & AI Service Line, Central Europe

April 2026 – Present · Germany

Strategic and operational leadership of the Central Europe Data & AI Service Line during a period of active growth. Accountable for commercial pipeline, service offering development, engagement governance, and regional talent.

- Originate and lead high-value Data & AI advisory engagements across financial services, energy, and enterprise accounts — own the full BD lifecycle from opportunity identification through proposal, commercial close, and delivery oversight
- Lead strategic CXO advisory sessions with senior client stakeholders on AI readiness, data governance, operating model design, and digital transformation roadmaps
- Define and evolve go-to-market positioning and service offerings across data modernisation, AI strategy, data products, and AI governance — translate market signal into consulting propositions
- Govern engagement quality across the region, maintaining alignment between contracted scope and client expectations across concurrent multi-stream programmes
- Lead and develop 54 consultants and technical leads across Romania, Amsterdam, and Germany — responsible for hiring plans, capacity allocation, performance, and career development
- Build internal frameworks, methodologies, and accelerators that improve delivery consistency and scalability across the practice
- Represent Thoughtworks at external conferences, executive forums, and industry events; contribute to published thought leadership that supports market positioning
