PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Data leader with 18+ years building the platforms, pipelines, and governance foundations that let organisations make faster, better decisions. I have led data functions in digital marketplaces, omnichannel retail, and global enterprise environments: building self-service analytics capability, unifying cross-channel customer data, and creating the data layer that AI and product teams actually rely on. At SMG Swiss Marketplace Group I built the Group Data Product team from zero, owned the full platform stack, and drove self-serve analytics adoption up 100% across four business units. At Thoughtworks I currently lead the Central Europe Data and AI Service Line, advising enterprise and retail clients on data strategy, AI readiness, and the organisational models that make data a competitive asset rather than a bottleneck. I measure success by what the organisation ships, not just what my team ships. Based in Leipzig, open to hybrid in Berlin.
